In this Christmas season, which will end on Sunday with the Baptism of the Lord, we celebrate the Epiphany of the Lord. Epiphany is a Greek word meaning manifestation. That is the revealing of Emanuel, the miracle that God is living with us in the person of Jesus.

God's offer of Universal Salvation in Jesus is revealed to us in the gospels clearly and without question. The question is 'who will accept the offer?' 'This is the chalice of my blood, the blood of the new and everlasting covenant. It will be shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins, do this in memory of me.'

Those who do God's will perfectly will be saved in the end by Jesus, even if they are not baptized. But by practicing false religions and worshiping pagan gods, a person commits idolatry, a mortal sin. That is not doing God's will perfectly.

To do God's will, to know the commandments as were given to the people Israel; is to follow the teachings of Jesus and his holy Catholic Church. Our human souls cannot enter heaven in a state of sin. What happens to the immortal souls of those who die who have rejected Jesus, or do not know him? What happens to their souls without the sacraments of the Catholic Church, without being anointed before human death?

If someone knows and says a perfect act of contrition moments before death, it is Jesus who has the will and the power to forgive them. The only place that they have learned this human action of trust in the mercy of God is from the Apostolic teaching of the Catholic Church. Tangible and sacramental forgiveness is found only in Jesus. It is Jesus who gave us the Catholic Church as His instrument of forgiveness.

The Hebrew people believed at the time of Jesus that they were the only people to be saved. The people of Israel, God's holy people. They built the magnificent temple in Jerusalem, they followed the prescriptions of the law. If a man did not bear the mark of circumcision on his flesh, he and his household were not blessed by the living Lord, Elohim. They were Gentiles.

St. Paul correctly teaches us that God's salvation is meant for all. He tells the Ephesians that what was not known before is made known now by the Holy Spirit, that the Gentiles are coheirs, members of the same body and copartners of the promises of the gospel gained for us by Christ Jesus. If all are worthy of the promises made by Jesus of eternal life, who is the son of God and the son of Mary; If all can become members of the body of Christ, the Catholic Church, through baptism of water and the Spirit; In what manner do we accept the offer of everlasting life given to us in our Baptism?

We share in the heavenly banquet of Christ's body and blood in the consecrated gifts at each Mass. Do we follow the example of the Magi, Gentiles from the East, and fall to our knees to worship the Christ Child? Do we fall to our knees in sorrow in the Sacrament of Reconciliation? Or do we act as Herod and the chief priests did, who knew the promises of God in Holy Scripture, only to send others to seek out the baby Jesus, the eternal word of God made flesh?

The Epiphany or the manifestation of the Lord celebrates the revelation of God in our lives, Emanuel, to all of humankind. Jesus came not to condemn the world, but to give the world life and more of it. The offer of Universal Salvation in Jesus revealed to us in the scriptures is clear and without question. The question is, 'who will accept the offer?'
