

Catholic Church's Teaching on War and Peace

WASHINGTON – In light of recent public comments regarding the Catholic Church's teaching on war and peace, Bishop James Massa, chairman of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops' Committee on Doctrine, issued the following statement:

“For over a thousand years, the Catholic Church has taught just war theory and it is that long tradition the Holy Father carefully references in his comments on war. A constant tenet of that thousand-year tradition is a nation can only legitimately take up the sword ‘in self-defense, once all peace efforts have failed’ (Catechism of the Catholic Church, no. 2308). That is, to be a just war it must be a defense against another who actively wages war, which is what the Holy Father actually said: ‘He does not listen to the prayers of those who wage war.’

“When Pope Leo XIV speaks as supreme pastor of the universal Church, he is not merely offering opinions on theology, he is preaching the Gospel and exercising his ministry as the Vicar of Christ. The consistent teaching of the Church is insistent that all people of good will must pray and work toward lasting peace while avoiding the evils and injustices that accompany all wars.”

Dear Friends of St. Margaret,
We are deeply grateful for the beautiful crucifix you gifted us. It is a meaningful reminder of Christ's love for us. It will be cherished in our home.
We feel truly blessed to be a part of this parish community. We were overwhelmed by the love shown to us on our blessing day. We will never forget it.

BLESSING OF MARRIAGE: One of the tenants to live life as a practical Catholic is to have our civil marriages blessed in the Church. A civil marriage is legal, usually celebrated in front of a judge in a courthouse. Catholics are unable to receive Holy Communion at Mass when married outside the Church with no dispensation.

Please contact Fr. Seabo for a confidential meeting if this situation affects you. The process is not complicated. Blessing of Marriage is most often celebrated in the Church during the week with family and friends present.
